Packing and Shipping:

Aluminium Pipes should be packaged in a way that protects them from any damage during shipping. The pipes should be packaged in a cardboard box with extra padding around the pipe to ensure it doesn't move around inside the box. If the pipe is fragile, it is important to add a "Fragile" sticker to the box to alert shipping companies and other personnel to handle the package with care. Additionally, the box should be sealed with heavy-duty tape to ensure the pipe won't slip out during transportation.
